

$894,000 Paid Berry Growers By Pacific Co-op Union in '44

Volume Sales Almost Three-Quarter Million Dollars Greater Than in Previous Year

A very good year was reported to the membership at the annual meeting of the Pacific Co-operative Union which took place on Friday, Dec. 22, in the Canadian Legion Auditorium, Mission City.

Volume of sales was almost three-quarters of a million dollars greater than in the previous year. This was accounted for largely, however, due to the fact that jam manufacturing was for a 12-month period as against seven months in 1943.

The amount paid to growers in 1944 was $894,125.65 as against $860,688.54 the previous year.

The increase in payments to growers would have been much greater, it was stated, had it not been for the ceiling prices placed on crate strawberries and raspberries, which growers organizations contended in representations to the Wartime Prices & Trade Board at the time were far too low.

Officers and directors elected for the ensuing year are: President, P. Van Velzen, Mission; Vice-President, J. W. Little, Matsqui; W. A. Goodman, Hatzic; H. Nielson, Whonock; A. W. Stevenson, Haney; N. O. Hook, Coghlan; G. W. Taylor, Mt. Lehman; A. Jackson, executive, Abbotsford; and E. Wilbourne, Chilliwack.

The Union, it was pointed out, now covers the entire Lower Mainland from Rosedale to New Westminster on the southside of the Fraser River, and from Agassiz to Coquitlam, on the north-

Book Service for Valley Children

The children of today are the citizens of tomorrow, and everyone who works with children is helping to build the future. The public library is an institution which can play an important role in guiding and educating tomorrow's citizens. The library's time the Fraser Valley Union Library places 3,800 volumes in sixty elementary and superior schools throughout the library district. Size of collection depends on enrollment, the largest schools receiving up to 200 volumes each time, and the job is in helping to build the future with books.

The Fraser Valley Union Library makes service for children a special feature of its work. Nearly a quarter of its total book stock consists of juvenile books. The juvenile collection now totals 10,887 volumes, and is growing steadily. The library spends 30% of its book budget on children's books—new titles and new copies of the old favorites of children. As a result, more than 1,400 new volumes have been added to the juvenile shelves in the first ten months of 1944.

Children's work is under the supervision of a specially trained and experienced librarian who selects, buys and catalogues the juvenile books and distributes them throughout the library system. Every book is most carefully chosen with the aid of standard library catalogues and journals.

The question is sometimes asked "How do these books reach the youngsters?" At the present smallest schools getting at least 30 books. Every school receives three collections during the school year, the first in September, another at Christmas and the third at Easter. Even the smallest one-room school thus has the use of ninety library books per year.

Schools are not the only agencies which distribute books to children. There are large juvenile collections in each of the Library's five main branches at Chilliwack, Mission, Haney, Abbotsford and Cloverdale, and smaller ones in a dozen deposit stations throughout the library area. The book-van, too, carries a stock of children's books which many youngsters and parents borrow regularly. Like the school deposits all of these collections are changed at regular intervals.

In the territory served by the Fraser Valley Union Library, there are few children who lack easy access to good books, either through the schools, at the deposit stations and on the book-van.

siding in the new settlement located south-east of Upper Sumas, between Vye-Road and the International Boundary. An additional room at North Poplar will probably become imperative within a short time. The most immediate need, however, is for a new high school. The present one is desperately overcrowded and the accommodation far below what is needed.

It might almost be said to be unfortunate that the school has such a splendid auditorium, for this auditorium is the only part of the school that is seen by the public, hence people in general have the entirely erroneous impression that the Philip Sheffield High School is a magnificent institution with adequate, and indeed ample, facilities.

Actually it is a four-room building into which almost 250 students are crammed. To accommodate so many, most of the basement has been partitioned off, thus creating four more rooms that are cramped, low-ceilinged, poorly ventilated, and very poorly lighted. The facilities for Practical Arts are very good as far as they go, but the needs and the number of pupils have far outgrown the space and equipment. The Home Economics

NEW YEAR GREETINGS BY FEDERAL MEMBER

To the Citizens of Fraser Valley: I would like to take this opportunity of extending to every one my sincere New Years Greetings.

The serious happenings in Belgium during the past week should bring home to us more than ever how fortunate we are to have the privilege of living in a valley such as ours.

What is more important is that we cannot but realize how much we owe to the gallant men and women from our district who serve in the Armed Services on our behalf. That the road to Victory will be long and the cost heavy no one can doubt, we of the home front must not falter in doing everything we can to support our armed forces.

Sincerely
George Cruickshank, M.P.

PIONEER CHURCH LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN FOR CAPITAL FUNDS

Objective $4,000 Drive Starts Now

St. Matthew's Anglican Church, Abbotsford, and St. Margaret's at Bradner, are seeking to lift mortgages, and raise sufficient funds to allow improvements to church property. It is proposed to raise at least $4000 during 1945.

The Anglican Church has served this district for three-quarters of a century, and in the early days it was looked to by all for spiritual comfort and encouragement. During this campaign historical notes of interest concerning the church and its development will be published.

PACIFIC STAGES NOT INVOLVED IN THREATENED TIEUP

Fraser Valley residents who depend on Pacific Stages for transportation will not be affected in the event of a strike, threatened for Jan. 9 by BCER street car and bus operators. Such bus drivers are separate from the BCER organization, according to a statement by I. W. Neil, general manager of B.C. Motor Transportation Ltd.

It is understood that the Fraser Valley interurban crews would not be affected but that repairmen, sectionmen and agents on the valley line would be called out.

Strike threat results from the fact that the National War Labor Board has decided that BCER basic wages should stand and that the men have already received increases larger than the increase in cost of living since the war started.

NEARLY 2000 PUPILS RETURN TO SCHOOLS

After an unusually long mid-winter vacation during which they enjoyed not only Christmas and New Year's festivities but also a brief period of skating on local ponds and lakes, close to 2000 children returned to their studies at M-S-A schools this morning. The year-end vacation extended from Dec. 15 to Jan. 3.

Immunization for Scarlet Fever will be carried out each Wednesday in the Health Office, Abbotsford, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Increase in M-S-A School Population One New Pupil Every Other Day In Past Two Years; Equals Five Rooms

Construction of Modern, New School Would Provide Essential Senior Facilities and Release Accommodation for Other Crowded Grades

Report of Inspector A. S. Towell, official trustee, M-S-A Education Area, to the December meeting of the Advisory Board considering school estimates for 1945, deals principally with the over-crowded condition of schools and busses and suggests the measures required to cope with the situation. The report follows:

During the past two years the school population of the M-S-A Area has increased by an average of one new pupil every other school day. The total increase during that time has been about 200 — the equivalent of five additional classrooms of forty pupils each. This increase created heavy pressure on both school and bus accommodation. Last year we opened the two-room Kilgard School; this year we have opened new rooms at Mt. Lehman and Bradner, and have added a Grade IX class at the Philip Sheffield High School. This has resulted in added costs for teachers, janitors, equipment, furniture, and supplies. The rooms had to be fitted up as classrooms; and to provide seating a larger number of old and discarded school desks were repaired and made serviceable. All this cost a good many hundreds of dollars, accounting for about half the deficit.

NEW YEAR'S MESSAGE BY PROVINCIAL MEMBER

To the Citizens of M-S-A Area:

The New Year is a bugle call to all mankind. Try again! It is never too late to make another attempt. It is characteristic of the highest spirit of man that he can never be conquered. The New Year this time, more than ever before, says to us all - Have Courage - courage is a primal virtue - never give up, try again.

A few of the old lines of William Ernest Henley are good for each one of us to repeat at the beginning of this New Year of 1945.

"It matters not how strait the gate, How charged with punishments the scroll, I am the master of my fate, I am the captain of my soul."

Les H. Eyres, F/Lt.

HOSPITAL & TAXES

Editor, A. S. & M. News: Re your editorial in Dec. 13 issue, "No Use Kidding Ourselves", in which you state that those who suggest sweepstakes etc., are only using delaying evasive actions, had you better not reconsider this?

I know your point of view that the churches are against such a proposal, some say the Catholics, but are we sure of this. Ireland is a Catholic country and they have shown the way to provide hospitals and I for one do not presume the Catholic religion in Ireland is any different to the Catholic religion in Canada, so I rule out any suggestion from any source the Catholics are to blame.

If any Protestant churches are against same would they not do well to remember the Biblical saying "Inasmuch as ye do it unto one of the least of my brethren, you do it unto me". They do not object to racetrack gambling where no one benefits, is it religion to object to a sweepstake to provide hospitals to care for the sick and injured. We are told in the Good Book that Christ Himself travelled administering to the sick and maimed. Are the churches putting obstructions in the way of Christ's work being carried on?

Personally I do not blame any of the churches or any sect of religion. If the people really wanted a sweepstake they would have one, and any outcry at the start would soon die down.

The writer of this editorial is working on a one-track system with the sole object of loading the municipalities with a large debt and strongly opposed to raising part of the money required from any other source.

If this project had been raised a year ago and different ways of raising money been carried out, quite a considerable sum would have been raised, which with donations would have helped quite a bit, then the municipalities could have been asked to provide balance.

This editorial states that the plan proposed is the only just and equitable one. What do you suppose happens to quite a few in the area who do not pay taxes.

It was the same with the Library a few years ago, put it on the land and now your idea (no doubt there are others besides yourself) is to throw the hospital on the land. The large and increasing school tax is on the land and if it comes a depression again in the next few years the land cannot stand up to it.

Today the municipalities have School Tax, Library Tax, with a proposition that an hospital tax be added, before they have one cent of revenue for their own needs. (I should have added to School and Library Tax all their social expenditure).

Your idea of comparing the different rates of taxes of different districts can also be criticized.

There is the practical and the theoretical sides to most every question and you harp on the theoretical.

Are you aware there are canyons in this area it would take a goat two days to get across and yet you would compare the tax rate on this land with that of the high priced land nearer the coast. So Mr. Editor, we can only conclude your life's ambition is to raise this area's taxes as high as possible by throwing everything possible on the land.

Before accusing others of using delaying, evasive actions, you would do well to consider that they are working for the benefit of the area by making the burden as light as possible, in distinct contrast to your ideas.

Matsqui is requested to put up the big end of money required on the basis of patients who use the hospital. Is there anyone amongst us, who can say conditions will be the same five years

WASHINGTON POULTRY CO-OP PAYS 24TH DIVIDEND - $267,500

For the 24th consecutive year, a dividend payment is being disbursed this week to members of the Washington Cooperative Egg and Poultry association, it is announced by General Manager Harry J. Beernink. The 6% dividend totalling $267,508 is based upon the investment which individual farmer-members hold in the common and preferred stock of their association.

At the same time the association board of trustees has authorized the retirement on January first of capital stock issued to members in 1940, at the par value of $722,865.

Also to reflect their individual proportion of the savings made in marketing and purchasing transactions during 1944, members will receive additional new certificates following the end of the year.

Abbotsford has the advantage of being close to medical care. Out here if a doctor is required the party has to pay doctor's travelling expense.

Matsqui could build a hospital with more accommodation than the present hospital, more West in the municipality. ## Address of the Canadian Bankers Association

Canada must return to the role of a great world-trading nation after the war, in the interest of for Canadians, S. M. Wedd, president of The Canadian Bankers' Association, told the Association's recent annual meeting.

Mr. Wedd mentioned the Dumbarton Oaks Conference and the Bretton Woods proposals as "phases of an evident and continuous striving for postwar progress, stability and security." He noted that in Canada a Dominion-provincial conference is mooted, as the end of the war approaches and the tasks of repatriation, demobilization and rehabilitation come to the front, and expressed the hope it would meet with full success.

"I am confident," he said, "that jurisdictional difficulties will not loom too large for I believe that all Canadians will realize, when the period of demobilization arrives, that to the men from overseas jobs will be much more immediately important than jurisdictions."

The war has made profound one manifestation being an increase in the national income from $4,862 millions in 1939 to more than $9,000 millions in 1944 and "our productive capacity, pastoral and industrial, now operates in a larger magnitude.

"In the transition from war to peace and afterwards," Mr. Wedd continued, "all of us will have to think and plan and operate to a large extent in terms of this new magnitude. We must go forward in the new dimension if the opportunity for remunerative toil is to be provided for all those who are willing to work. It is obvious that for this nation to contemplate returning to the dimension of 1939 is unthinkable."

The Association president warned against the acceptance of "some experimental ideology which would sweep away all of the things which are inherently sound." He said "The democratic world cannot suddenly scrap the system of free initiative and look to a Utopia brought about overnight." He also cautioned that "dollars still must have buying power when they go into and come out of pay envelopes, the savings accounts and the Victory Bonds."

A great stimulus could be given to the postwar development of trade and employment if business and industry were made reasonably sure of profits "not unfairly depleted by undue taxation," Mr. Wedd declared.

A scaling down of taxes from the heights of wartime necessity would be to the advantage of all because it would release accumulated savings for development of enterprise and industry and the creation of jobs. Profits he defined as "the wages of savings."

CBC OVERSEAS WORKSHOP

The success of CBC war correspondents broadcasting home to Canada has only been possible because of the work of skilled CBC engineers in uniform like Paul Johnson, left, and Harold Wadsworth. The men are pictured in the workshop of the CBC's Overseas Unit in London as they check and test their equipment, some of it battle-scarred from campaigns on the German and Italian fronts.

Referring to the decennial revision of The Bank Act this year by Parliament, Mr. Wedd said it provided the chartered banks of Canada with "renewed opportunity to serve the Canadian public. I am sure that we all regard it in the light of a responsibility which we shall do our best to discharge for the good of the nation." He pledged the co-operation of the banks in carrying out the provisions and intentions of the new Bank Act and the terms of ancillary legislation passed by Parliament, particularly in the field of small personal loans and intermediate credit to farmers. He also mentioned the Export Credits Insurance Act, designed to facilitate world trade and the newly established Industrial Development Bank, each designed to play its part in "an enlarged, integrated financial system and aims at ensuring that no sound credit need is left unserved."

Mr. Wedd referred to the many war tasks undertaken by the Canadian banks such as the opening and servicing of 209,313 ration coupon banking accounts and the delivery of 10,750,000 Victory Bonds to individuals. These, and many other wartime duties, coming at a time when 8,694 men and women from bank staff were enlisting in the armed forces, threw a great responsibility on those remaining. One result has been that women now constitute 60 percent of bank staffs compared with 21.7 percent before the war.

The banks have shown themselves alert and resilient, Mr. Wedd declared. It would appeal to the commonsense of all Canadians "that a system which is so comprehensive and efficient and which has met the needs of an ever-expanding war economy, can just as readily meet the requirements arising from demobilization, repatriation, peace and reconversion."

Stressing the necessity of developing Canada's world trade after the war Mr. Wedd said other nation derived such a high percentage of its national income from exports.

"Export trade," he said, "is the most vital factor bearing upon the problem of postwar prosperity and postwar jobs for Canadians. War has developed in Canada an industrial equipment far beyond anything we had before the war. Markets must be found so that Canada can turn this equipment to world account.

Our export trade is mostly in war goods. All other export trade has sharply diminished. Peacetime export markets for primary products have largely disappeared.

"Export markets, even greater than before the war, will be required if our agriculture, mining, fishing, forest industries, manufacturing and our national well-being are to prosper in the new dimension. Export trade has

C.P.R. Plans for Future

H. J. Humphrey

E. D. Cotterell

LONG-RANGE planning for the transition of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company from a war to a peacetime basis was foreshadowed recently when D. C. Coleman, Chairman and President, announced the assignment of H. J. Humphrey, formerly Vice-President of the Company's Eastern Lines, to "special duties".

Mr. Humphrey's exceptionally wide experience, extensive public contacts and comprehensive knowledge will be devoted primarily to the solution of problems that will confront the Company in the period of transition from war to peace. Mr. Coleman said. Mr. Humphrey is now located at the Company's headquarters in Montreal.

He is succeeded as vice-president, Eastern Lines, by E. D. Cotterell, formerly general manager, Eastern Lines, who is promoted to vice-president, and general manager, with headquarters in Toronto. Both Mr. Humphrey and Mr. Cotterell report to W. M. Neal, C.B.E., Vice-President of the Company. The appointments became effective October 1.

These changes again bring into the spotlight two officials who have each made great contributions to the steady advancement of Canadian railroading and have devoted their entire lives to the development of this vital phase of Canadian life.

FOOD FROM FARMS FOR WAR PRISONERS

By arrangement with the British Red Cross Society, the Canadian Red Cross Society supplies two-thirds of all the food parcels sent to allied prisoners of war, except those from the United States. Clothing and medical supplies to Canadian, British and other Allied prisoners are supplied by the British Red Cross. Much of the food in the parcels originates on Canadian farms.

A total of 190,000 parcels are sent from Canada to prisoners of war every week. This year the cost will be, it is estimated, $24,700,000, of which the Canadian Red Cross will pay $5,500,000. The 190,000 parcels go to 80,000 British and Canadian prisoners of war in Europe, 80,000 for other allied prisoners in Europe, 30,000 for British prisoners and civilians in the Far East.

The parcels are not sent individually to prisoners, but are distributed by the International Committee in Geneva, Switzerland. The food in the parcels is intended to supplement the meagre prisoners' diet. Each parcel weighs 11 pounds and contains: 16 ozs. whole milk powder, 16 ozs. butter, 4 ozs. cheese, 16 ozs. jam or marmalade, 10 ozs. pork luncheon meat, 8 ozs. salmon, 4 ozs. sardines or kippers, 8 ozs. raisins, 8 ozs. dried prunes, 8 ozs. sugar, 12 ozs. corned beef or other meat, 16 ozs. pilot biscuits, 1 oz. salt and pepper, 4 ozs. tea, 2 ozs. soap, 8 ozs. eating chocolate.

In the first ten months of 1944 the Canadian Red Cross had sent 13,797,974 parcels.

B. C. HORSE BREEDERS FAVOR ARTIFICIAL INSEMINATION PLAN

The British Columbia Horse Breeders' Association re-elected Claude Worthington, Chilliwack, as president, at their annual meeting in New Westminster.

Other members of the executive are: Vice-president, Rupert Fisher, Ladner; Secretary-treasurer, W. H. Hicks, Agassiz; directors, Frank Farrell, Ladner; Geo. Shannon, Cloverdale; Wm. Shepherd, Sea Island; Jack Pybus, Ladner; Alex. Montgomery, Ladner; George Jackson, for the upper country; James Cassanave, Vancouver Island.

That the time is coming when the horse will again be economic in value, was an encouraging statement made by Dr. N. S. Wood, U.B.C.

Artificial insemination was urged by W. H. Hicks, superintendent of the Experimental Farm at Agassiz, as the answer to the problem of bringing in new blood to breeding stock in the Fraser Valley.

The suggestion was warmly supported by the meeting, and a recommendation was made that the directors of the association be asked to go into the question of procuring a stallion to be used for the benefit of breeders in the Fraser Valley and on Vancouver Island.

DAIRYMEN OPPOSE "COCKTAIL BARS"

Nomination of four members to contest two seats on the board of directors and going on record as opposing the introduction of the sale of intoxicating liquor by the drink in the State of Washington were the highlights of the annual meeting in Lynden of the Whatcom County Dairymen's Association.

The 300 dairymen present nominated Robert Sorensen of Laurel, Gerrit Noteboom of Lynden, Ira Perry of Sumas and Clarence Nyhus of the Harmony district, as the four candidates for the two positions on the board of directors. The election will be held in February.

No one can demand that someone else be trustworthy. But everybody can become the sort of person other people trust.

No Relief in Sight for the 'phone Situation

There is still a great shortage of telephones, telephone lines and central office equipment, and, unfortunately, there is no immediate prospect of the situation improving.

Factories that previously made telephone equipment for civilian use are now manufacturing equipment for war. And even after war requirements have been met, it will take a long time to obtain enough telephone equipment to catch up with the civilian demand.

We, of course, cannot help the situation. We are genuinely sorry we cannot say "yes" to everyone who applies for service.

Overcrowding of Schools

ics kitchen, for instance, is very fine, but its teacher has to handle classes as high as fifty with equipment designed for a maximum of thirty-two. The Grade VII pupils of the Area, some 200 in number, get neither Home Economics nor Industrial Arts; the Grade VIII and IX pupils get only a little more than one-half the amount of instruction in these two subjects that the Program of Studies calls for.

Permit Junior High

Planning should at once be started for a completely new high school of about eight rooms with gymnasium, auditorium, library, laboratory, study hall, shops and kitchen, and all facilities needed for modern secondary education. The cost would run well into six figures. The existing high school could then be used as a junior high school, and thus relieve the serious overcrowding in Grades VII, VIII, and IX.

Bus troubles have become acute. With no more buses than we had five years ago, we have to transport hundreds more pupils. More and more, of course, have to walk, and this creates ill-feeling among the parents.

Moreover our oldest buses are about nine years old and are now, to put it plainly, worn out. Breakdowns are becoming more frequent with every month, and repairs are mounting likewise. The only thing that has kept the costs of upkeep within bounds at all this past year is that we now have our own repair shop with mechanic in charge.

Need New Permits

Some pupils now travel on the B.C. Electric, and new transportation between Straiton and Kilgard is being arranged. But these expedients are only temporary relief. The Area must now face the necessity of buying two or three new buses, which will cost about $7000 apiece.

The serving of hot lunch dishes to school children is now becoming general. Once established, the scheme is self-supporting, since a small daily charge covers operating costs. Some initial expense, however, is required; in a small school this is negligible, but where hundreds of children are to be served the cost becomes a considerable item.

Schedule increments will substantially raise the cost of teachers' salaries next year, even if no new schedule be adopted as a result of negotiations now under way between school trustees and teachers of the Lower Fraser Valley, looking towards a uniform Valley salary schedule.

99 In Matsqui

The large increase in this year's estimates is almost wholly accounted for by provision for new school buildings, new buses, higher salaries, and school lunches. It is to be noted that 99 of this year's 105 pupils reside in Matsqui; hence, under the per capita arrangement for distribution of school costs, Matsqui has to bear the lion's share of the increase.

Abbotsford Troop
Reconnaissance Squadron
—2nd (R) Bn. (M)—

PARADES

Troops will parade at L.H.Q. Orange Hall, Monday, 8th. Jan. 1945 at 1930 hrs. Dress, Drill order.

During the past year Abbotsford Tp. made an excellent record for attendance, maintenance of interest and general performance. This year we will attain our objective of the best troop in the best squadron in the best regiment. Ten new recruits were taken on strength just before the Christmas training holiday. They are all young and very promising material.

Recruiting

We have vacancies for fifteen (15) more men. The war is still on and the slogan "If you can't go Active, go Reserve", still holds. While our appeal is mainly to the young men, all eligible applicants will be considered. Applications should be made to Lieut. T. A. Harris, A/Officer Commanding at Local H.Q., Orange Hall, Monday nights between 7:30 and 10:30 p.m. or phone 166R or 49L. Prospective recruits should apply immediately as recruit training starts on Monday 8th inst.

Recreation

Arrangements have been made with our well known Pro. Rec. instructor, Tommy Rubens, to hold classes at the Drill Hall once a week for members of the Troop. Boxing will be part of the activities. This is not a parade but an effort to provide an additional interest to our training.

The troop held open house New Years Day and all attending were well entertained. Trooper Walter Harvey did a good job of work in the catering line as did the rest of the committee in theirs. S.S.M. Wallace and Sgt. George Kask, acting as unofficial hosts, lent dignity to the proceedings.

Our open house operation barely missed failure. At 1900 hrs. Saturday, intelligence reported the canteen to be without ammunition for the operation. At 1160 hrs. Sunday the situation was still grave and rapidly deteriorating. At 1200 hrs. the O.C. accompanied by Trooper Charlie Smyth, applying a principle of recon—when stuck, do something—made a swift reconnaissance. It succeeded beyond his wildest expectations. Contact was established with the R.C.E.'s to the East, reinforcements were poured in and by 1350 hrs., the situation at L.H.Q. was completely restored.

While the total number of dairy cows (milking and dry) in Australia has remained fairly constant (about 3,200,000) during the war years, the number of cows actually milked has decreased progressively over the past three years, mainly on account of prolonged dry weather.

been sharply curtailed, in some cases almost paralyzed except for war goods, by uncertain foreign currencies, shipping difficulties, priorities and allocations of essential supplies by wartime international directive bodies.

"Thus it is that while Canada's trade, her national expenditure, the people's deposits and banking assets have so greatly expanded, our ordinary lending facilities have been called so little in demand that the greater part of the expansion in bank assets is represented in our investment portfolio.

"It is self-evident that the anomalies to which I refer arise from causes which must be reversed if Canadians are to prosper in the postwar world. We must assume and expect that, as rapidly as possible, restrictive policies will be relaxed; that regulations will be withdrawn as quickly as postwar circumstances allow; and that export trade on a world basis will be freed progressively from quotas, priorities and encumbering regulations. We must assume that Canada will play its part in an international freeing of individual initiative and enterprise from the fetters clamped upon it by the imperative and arbitrary demands of war."

No more privacy than a goldfish

While bringing its policyholders all the advantages of competitive business, life insurance "lives in a glass house". It has no more privacy than a goldfish. Complete details of its operations are available to policyholders and the public at large, in the 700-page Annual Report of the Dominion Superintendent of Insurance, and in Provincial Reports.

Under the laws enacted at Confederation and constantly broadened and improved during the past 75 years, policyholders enjoy the double protection of both Dominion and Provincial supervision. They receive full information about the life insurance business in Canada; its investments, its policy funds, its contingency reserves, the volume of protection which it provides and, in fact, the whole detail of its operations. No other industry in Canada is under such continuous and experienced supervision.

Life insurance is the outstanding business example of private management under government supervision in the public interest. Within this democratic pattern, the faith that Canadians have in their life insurance has been vindicated through wars, epidemics, panics and depressions. Within this pattern, the interests of four million Canadian policyholders are safeguarded.

ABBOTSFORD

The simplest truth brings better results than the most complicated excuses. If we were more concerned with people's needs we would be less critical of their lacks.

May 1945 Bring Victory To Our Arms

May we, the Citizens of this Area, be prepared, when the day of Victory comes, to assist in the Rehabilitation of our war weary Veterans.

May we be tolerant with them and try to understand them and make allowances for reactions from war services.

May we ever strive to uphold their cause and be ever on our guard against unscrupulous persons who might think this period a golden harvest created just for them.

May we proceed with good judgement, unity and singleness of purpose to the end that when the transitory period is over we shall have produced happy, industrious people, a credit to the community and a community proud of its ex-service men and women and its own achievement in rehabilitation . . .
